

And Yet Even More Things To Think About:

Man does not live by words alone despite the fact that one day he might have to eat them.

Sometime's it's harder to close the door than open the window.

What you DON'T say speaks volumes.

It's what is NOT said that's important.

Don't open the door to the past for you will regret it.

It's time to go.

There are consequences to being rescued.

Crying is the biggest waste of time this side of fear®ret.

NEVER show emotion-it shows weakness.

Always focus on the front windshield→ the rearview mirror.

It is what it is.

NEVER make someone a priority when all you are to them is an option.

Say your final piece&leave it at that.

Don't make the same mistake twice.

Some people are just emotionally unreachable.

Love is rare,love is strange,nothing lasts&people change.

Fear&failure are NEVER options.

Never settle-Find the one you can't live without.

What keeps 2 people together can also tear them apart.

There is no finish to a lie.

It's better to be left out than trapped.

Better to get caught up in the moment than to let it slip away.

There is no such thing as wasted kindness.

Time will explain it all.

Know your limits.

It's better to be envied than pitied.

Never let success go to your head&failure to your heart.

Love cannot be purchased&affection has no price.

An injury is forgotten faster than an insult.

Common sense is not so common.

Lost time is never found.

You can't fail if you don't try.

It's better to forget than remember®ret.

I do because I must.

We always run away from what we do not understand.

Nowhere to go but out&nowhere to go but back.

To conquer fear is the beginning of wisdom.

If the past&present fight,the future loses.

These are not tears of regret-they are tears that cleanse the soul.

See the happy moron he doesn't give a d@mn.I wish I were a moron.My God,perhaps I am!

nanakwame@ownmail.net

aity27@yahoo.co.uk

NANA KWAME